

Your Hybrid Workspace platform

More companies are adopting a Hybrid working model meaning desk ratios, occupancy planning and data are crucial to the success of future real estate decisions.

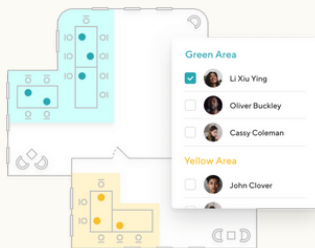

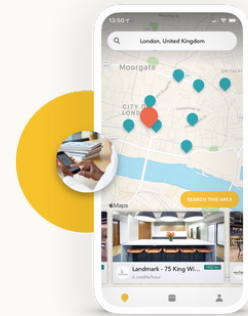

Desana can help manage this complexity whilst also providing an on-demand network of spaces for your employees to use. Our clients use this to help attract and retain the best talent while lowering their carbon footprint.

Desana On Demand

The Desana network provides overflow desk space, wherever and whenever in the world you need it.

Only pay for the time you need, whether that's 15 minutes or a full day. Ideal for businesses with a fluctuating headcount helping maximise their real estate investment.

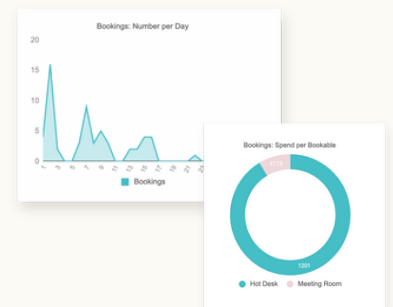

HQ booking system

Adding your HQ to the Desana platform enables a desk booking system, without hardware, for your own desks as well as the external network. You can categorise anyway you choose, by department, area, floor or location, even add car parking spaces!

Data reporting

Use the information captured from external and internal booking data to drive your current and future strategy meaning you can base your real estate decisions on your own staff behaviour, including;

- Utilisation
- Booking habits
- Location heat maps
- Full cost analysis and comparison

Let's work together to help companies navigate through a sustainable working model!
